Similarly, the site's accessibility to services, facilities and areas of existing employment is likely to have a positive effect. However, the development of greenfield, grade 4 ALC land is assessed as having a negative effect, as could the ecological value of the site and its proximity to historic assets.

Summary of overall assessment and likely significant effects:
The proposed delivery of circa 80 dwellings is considered to have a significant positive effect. Similarly, the site's accessibility to health care services and facilities and areas of existing employment is likely to have a positive effect, as could the site's location away from historic assets. However, the development of greenfield, grade 3 ALC land is assessed as having a significant negative effect as could part of the site's location within flood zone 2 and 3.

		The proposed delivery of circa 150 dwellings is considered to have a significant positive effect. Similarly, the site's accessibility to services, facilities and areas of existing employment is likely to have a positive effect, as could its location away from historic assets. However, the development of greenfield, grade 3 ALC land is assessed as having a significant negative effect, as could the site's partial location within flood zone 2 and 3. The site's proximity to a LNR is likely to have a negative effect.

SA Objective	Assessment Criteria - Does the site (BM008)...?	Commentary on likely nature of effects of site allocation	Overall assessment
		The proposed delivery of circa 18 dwellings is considered to have a significant positive effect. Similarly, the site's accessibility to areas of existing employment and low ecological value is likely to have a positive effect. However, the inaccessibility of services and facilities is likely to have a significant negative effect. Similarly, the development of mixed brownfield and greenfield, grade 4 ALC land and the site's proximity to historic assets is assessed as having a negative effect.

SA Objective	Assessment Criteria - Does the site (BB087)...?	Commentary on likely nature of effects of site allocation	Overall assessment
	The development of new employment premises should have a significant positive effect on the vitality and viability of the District, strengthen economic growth and support a higher level of employment within the District. Similarly, the site's accessibility to services and facilities is likely to have a positive effect. However, the site's proximity to historic assets is likely to have a significant negative effect. The development of greenfield, urban ALC land is assessed as having a negative effect, as is the ecological value of the site.

		The proposed delivery of circa 35 dwellings is considered to have a significant positive effect. Similarly, the site's distance away from historic assets is likely to have a positive effect. However, the site is relatively inaccessible to services and facilities and areas of existing employment which is likely to have a significant negative effect. Similarly, the development of greenfield, grade 4 ALC land is assessed as having a negative effect, as is the ecological value of the site.

Summary of overall assessment and likely significant effects:
The proposed delivery of circa 26 dwellings is considered to have a significant positive effect. Similarly, the site's accessibility to areas of existing employment and open countryside, as well as the site's location away from historic assets is likely to have a positive effect. However, the inaccessibility of services and facilities is likely to have a significant negative effect. Similarly, the development of greenfield, grade 4 ALC land is assessed as having a negative effect, as is the site's ecological value.

Summary of overall assessment and likely significant effects:

SA Objective	Assessment Criteria - Does the site (CD115: alternative uses)...?	Commentary on likely nature of effects of site allocation	Overall assessment
	The development of new employment premises should have a significant positive effect on the vitality and viability of the District, strengthen economic growth and support a higher level of employment within the District. Similarly, the provision of housing provided is likely to have a significant positive effect. However, the inaccessibility of services and facilities and development of greenfield, grade 3 ALC land is likely to have a significant negative effect. Similarly, the site's proximity to historic assets is likely to have a negative effect.
